ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder trouble compel you to pass water often through the day and get up many times during the night.

Unhealthy kidneys cause lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, at times pass water may have a sallow complexion, puffiness or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have play of ambition but no strength, get weak and lose flesh.

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow. Bright's disease, the very worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians who usually content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease constantly undermines the system.

A Trial Will Convince Anyone.

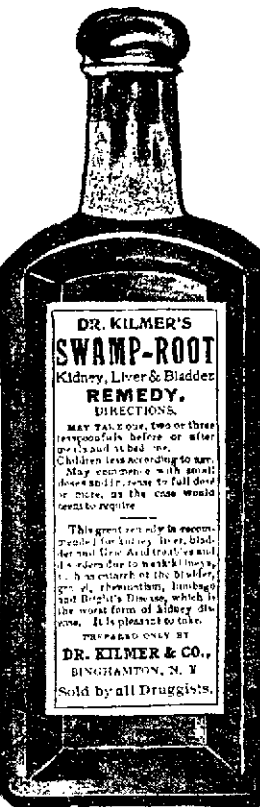

If you feel that your kidneys are the cause of your sickness or run-down condition, begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help the other organs to health. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is a gentle healing vegetable compound, a physician's prescription for a specific disease.

You cannot get rid of your aches and pains if your kidneys are out of order. You cannot feel right when your kidneys are wrong.

Swamp-Root is Pleasant to Take.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the famous fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at any drug store. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE.—To prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands of letters from Dr. Kilmer and women who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy they needed. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.; be sure to say you read this generous offer in THE OAKLAND DAILY TRIBUNE. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

emphasizing some point in her testimony when Lefebvre arose in his seat and said: "Release that woman. She is innocent. I alone am responsible. Madame Steinheil had nothing to do with the death of my husband and Madame Jany. I killed them, and I am glad of it."

As this confession fell from the lips of the woman, Madame Steinheil tottered and would have fallen had not gentlemen rushed to her assistance and carried her to a chair.

Lefebvre was removed from the court room and given over to the custody of the police who will make a complete investigation of his confession. It was some time before the examination of the woman, who yesterday moved the Parisian assemblage with all the skill of a consummate witness, could be continued.

SHE ADMITS MANY LOVERS.

When questioned, Madame Steinheil confessed the government for failing to confront her with her former lover, St. Borden, the prosecution's principal witness.

"Why do you not bring him before me?" she screamed.

"You dare not, and besides he is afraid to face me."

The prosecution is keeping St. Borden away from court, but says that he will testify after Madame Steinheil's examination has been finished. This will probably be today. Replying to questions, Madame Steinheil said:

"I have lovers—many of them—just as suppose men have many mistresses."

The only statement that the "red widow" made that could be construed in any way as bearing upon the late President's case was the following:

RECALLS HIGH DIGNITY.

"My husband took me to the salon of high dignitaries of the republic. He later became my lover. He was interested deeply in my husband's paintings. The only wrong that he ever did me was in dying and not taking me with him."

The woman continues to maintain that the murders were committed by three men and a red-haired woman, who was dressed in long, flowing robes.

In reviewing the case and in referring to the woman's answers to questions, M. Valles of the prosecution said:

"Madame Steinheil was a liar at the age of 5 years, and never has reformed."

DEMANDS RELEASE.

Madame Steinheil appeared scarcely alive while Jean Lefebvre was making his statement. When he had finished his confession the woman threw up her hands, tottered and would have fallen had not gentlemen rushed to her assistance. When she was carried to her chair the "red widow" completely recovered. When she recovered sufficiently she shrieked at the top of her voice:

"I am innocent. I tell you that I am innocent," she screamed.

"I have told you all this while, that I

GEORGE REED TELLS OF DE LANCEY'S ADMISSIONS

Accused Lawyer Told Him on Two Occasions That He Had Cook Money in His Possession

Testifying today for the prosecution at the trial of John S. De Lancey, in progress in the criminal department of the Superior Court, Attorney George W. Reed, chief counsel for former Public Administrator George Gray, stated positively that on at least two occasions after De Lancey's indictment for the alleged embezzlement of $10,000 from the estate of the late George Hite Cook the accused lawyer told him that he had the money in his possession. De Lancey made the admission once during a conference with reference to a settlement of accounts between Gray and his former legal representative, which was held at the latter's ranch home back of Hayward, and again during a similar conversation in Attorney Reed's office.

"Mr. De Lancey told me on both of those occasions that he had the money in the George Hite Cook estate on hand," asserted Attorney Reed. "This money was not paid over until the final settlement on October 13."

Aside from this point very little testimony out of the ordinary was developed during this forenoon's session of court, although at the conclusion of the day's proceedings the State introduced the first of its evidence to prove that the defendant had received the money represented by the amount of money due to the estates of George Hite Cook and C. Arnold while he was closing them up for Gray.

PERSONAL CREDIT.

This evidence consisted of testimony to the effect that De Lancey had only paid into the county treasury $357.73 to the credit of the Cook estate and $374.40 to that of the Arnold estate, upon separate affidavits subscribed and sworn to by the county auditor and the county treasurer, both of whom testified that these were all the funds in his possession, when as a matter of fact, according to the prosecution, he had at the time in his personal credit the $10,000 from the Cook estate and the $1,000 in the Arnold estate.

REED A WITNESS.

Attorney George W. Reed was the first witness for the prosecution this morning. He said he had practiced law since 1880 and had served two terms as District Attorney.

Witness testified that he was head counsel for George Gray during the latter's term as public administrator and that he was the county auditor with De Lancey, and that defendant was the assistant legal representative until his resignation about August 24. Reed said that he had had nothing to do with the case since that time, but that he had simply acted as consulting attorney to Gray, prepared no papers and had at no time looked after the books in the public administrator's office, nor made any entries therein. He had caused no entries or alterations to be made in the records of the George Hite Cook and C. Arnold estates, and had nothing to do with the preparation of the public administrator's semi-annual reports. He knew absolutely nothing about the details of the reports.

Witness testified that he knew nothing about the bank books or deposits, nothing about the money drawn and nothing about the other details of Gray's office. He knew A. J. Flood and said that a portion of the former clerk's salary was paid out of his fees. He said that he drew one-third of the attorney's fees of the office but said that he could not remember whether he paid a third or a quarter of Flood's salary.

Witness had a conversation with De Lancey about depositing money with the county treasurer and told him that the public administrator's funds showed he was deposited. He could not remember what De Lancey said in reply to this.

After the indictment had been returned against De Lancey in the alleged embezzlement of the $10,000 from the George Hite Cook estate, for which De Lancey is now on trial, Attorney Reed had a conversation with defendant relative to the estate. It took place on September 14, at De Lancey's home in Canyon ranch in the presence of Attorney J. W. Blagman.

HAD MONEY ON HAND.

"De Lancey told me then," said Attorney Reed, "that he had the money in the George Hite Cook estate on hand."

De Lancey owned him a settlement of the $10,000 from the George Hite Cook estate, for which De Lancey is now on trial, Attorney Reed had a conversation with defendant relative to the estate. It took place on September 14, at De Lancey's home in Canyon ranch in the presence of Attorney J. W. Blagman.

Witness said that De Lancey claimed that Gray owed him about $425.12 and that he had about $5000 coming to him in fees from pending estates. He testified that De Lancey said that if Gray owed him $425.12, he would give him credit for the $425.12 and he would be due to him. He would be due to him the fees due to him to Gray and pay over the money in the George Hite Cook estate, making the total amount of the prospective settlement about $25,000. Witness said that he knew nothing about why De Lancey claimed that Gray owed him $425.12, further than what defendant had told him. Afterward the settlement was effected on the terms proposed by De Lancey, in the best interests of the former public administrator.

Upon cross-examination Attorney Reed retraced the statement made to him by De Lancey that he had the money of the George Hite Cook estate on hand and said that in connection with the settlement he said Attorney Blagman was the one for Gray. De Lancey said he would settle on the terms he had proposed. The $22,000 covered several estates and was offset by De Lancey's claims to leave a balance due Gray of about $1000.

Frick—De Lancey told you he had that money, including the George Hite Cook estate, intact, did he not?

Reed—Yes, that is the way I remember it.

Frick—This included all the estates in which De Lancey owed money?

Reed—Yes.

Frick—You went to him to get a settlement in all the estates, did you not?

Reed—Yes.

Frick—Not merely in the George Hite Cook estate?

Reed—No. We wanted an accounting and settlement in all the estates—a final settlement.

SUPPOSED BARON DIES A PAUPER

waymen. Policemen were even dressed in women's clothes in an attempt to run the man to earth.

CAUGHT IN THIS CITY.

It was not until the criminal came to Oakland that he was finally taken into custody. He was as bold as ever, as evidenced by the fact that he made three attempts, one after the other, Captain of Detectives Peterson, who was then captain of police, detailed Kite and Hammon to ride bicycles throughout the Alameda district. The detectives did as directed, continuously crossing and recrossing the streets.

WAS ONLY 19 YEARS.

At Grand avenue and Boulevard Terminus the highwayman was encountered. He was arrested without resistance, and on arriving at the city prison confessed to his long series of crimes. He was at that time but 19 years of age. His criminal influence was brought to bear by his noble relatives in Austria to keep him from going to prison, but to no avail.

FULL DESCRIPTION.

The description of the police of Vetsera, as follows: Nose flat, broken at bridge; scar on left nostril; two vaccination marks on both right and left arm; one tooth out upper jaw, native of Austria, light hair, light complexion, hazel eyes.

EMBASSY ACTS.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—Was Louis von Vetsera, otherwise known as Frank Wyckoff, who was in a pauper's grave in Riverside cemetery here, really Baron Louis von Vetsera, brother to Countess Maria Vetsera, whose dead body lay alongside that of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria in the latter's funeral home, here, last August 20 years ago, revealed a tragedy that has since remained a mystery. Is a question that the Austrian embassy at Washington is endeavoring to clear up through the local consul, George von Grivice.

Investigation was begun upon telegraphic orders from Washington and grew out of a telegram from San Francisco from an unknown source requesting the funds to bury Louis Vetsera, who had died in this city October 20, 1908.

Grivice was instructed to seek the aid of Mayor Speer. If necessary, to locate the body of Vetsera. Although, according to the consul, it is the custom of representatives of the Austrian government in this country to keep track of all deaths of countrymen, the fact that the assistance of the Mayor was to be sought, indicated that the Austrian Ambassador was more than ordinarily interested in burying the Vetsera supposed to have died here.

BARON DISAPPEARED.

After the tragic death of his sister, Baron von Vetsera disappeared. Some credited him with the murder of his sister and the woman, Grace Wyckoff, who refused to break off their alleged illicit relations, and many believe he afterwards committed suicide.

Consul von Grivice declares that so far as he knows the Baron never left the United States, and he is not aware that his whereabouts were known to his government.

DIES A PAUPER.

At the instruction of Mayor Speer, the police authorities of this city have been tracing the career of Frank Wyckoff. They have learned that his real name was Louis von Vetsera, and that he lived a secluded life in this city. He was afflicted with consumption and was penniless in his latter days. He died in the county hospital, and attendants there learned in some manner that he had served a sentence in San Quentin penitentiary.

Previous to coming to Denver Wyckoff, or Vetsera, worked several months in Pueblo, Colo., as a millman.

KEEPS IDENTITY SECRET.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Referring to the mystery that surrounded the death of Frank Wyckoff, who died several days ago in Denver, and who it has since been declared, was Count Louis Vetsera, the supposed slayer of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, Karl Louise A. Bixas, Austro-Hungarian consul in this city, said:

"The man who died in Denver was identified by means of Bertillon measurements as a pauper prisoner from San Francisco, who was committed from Oakland for burglary under the name of Simon L. M. von Vetsera. He was not a von Vetsera as has been asserted. He belonged to a good family, but ran away from home when a boy and shipped as a sailor. After his release from prison I saw him before he died. I don't care to divulge the name of the family on account of his career in this country."

ho, the District Attorney and De Lancey in the presence of County Treasurer Kelly and A. J. Flood, had a conversation in the treasurer's office.

"A couple of large deposits had been made," said the chief deputy county treasurer, "and Mr. Donahue asked De Lancey if that was all the money that was in his (De Lancey's) possession. De Lancey replied that it was all the money he had, but that he was presenting estate which De Lancey did not regard as coming under the Superior Court order."

Planner related another conversation with De Lancey in the office of the District Attorney. On this occasion De Lancey stated that all of the money in the county had been deposited in the county treasury. This conversation occurred a few days after the talk in the county treasurer's office.

On cross-examination by Attorney Frick, Planner testified in connection with the conversation in the District Attorney's office that he had refreshed his memory regarding it since the beginning of the trial. The District Attorney had directed his attention to the question asked De Lancey about the deposits that had been made and defendant's answer

ANNUAL BALL OF THE B'NAI B'RITH

More Than Five Hundred Guests do Honor to the Occasion

The semi-annual ball given last evening by the members of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith was a brilliant social success. Representative members of the Jewish set from both sides of the bay enjoyed the hospitality of Oakland lodge, which is one of the most enterprising fraternal societies in Alameda county. About five hundred young people were present. The hall was profusely decorated with ferns arranged attractively, which made a pretty background for the beautiful gowns worn.

Many young women made their debut at that function, which was pronounced to be one of the most delightful events ever held under the auspices of the local order. The patronesses of the affair were Mrs. M. Schneider, Mrs. S. King, Mrs. A. Salinger, Mrs. S. Samuels, Mrs. Abraham Jonas, Mrs. G. Samuels and Mrs. A. Javans. The committee in charge of the affair included P. Ringolsky, M. Marks, J. Salinger, M. Schwartz and J. Michaels; floor manager, Jeffrey M. Salinger. The reception committee was composed of M. Samuels, P. Ringolsky, M. Marks, M. Schwartz and L. Michaels.

Court adjourned for the day at 5 o'clock.

MAN REPORTED MISSING.

William K. Thornton, residing at the northeast corner of Seventh and Harvard streets, is reported as missing to the police.

He left home on October 30 and has not been seen since. The missing man was thirty years of age, five feet five inches tall, and weighed about 130 pounds. He had brown hair and brown eyes.

Thornton had been employed by the California Pure Water company of San Francisco.

Joseph De Vora, a schoolboy residing in Pittsburgh, ran away from home on October 21, and has not been seen since. He is eleven years of age and was dressed in brown corduroy pants, with overalls over them, a brown coat and a cap.

Registration and Baiting.

Party affiliation, as designated in the registration, has come to be a poor indication of the result of elections. So many men negative by their ballots the party affiliation set forth when they register that even the wisest politicians are at a loss in estimating the real measure of party strength.

In Sacramento the registration showed 7000 Republicans to 3000 Democrats, yet on a purely local issue the Democrats carried the election, winning the majority and other principal officers. Mind you, this occurred under the operation of a direct primary law which permits the individual voter to designate at the polls who shall be his party candidates. Apparently the effect of the direct primary law is to destroy party loyalty and party cohesion.

In San Francisco the register showed a clear Republican majority over all other political classifications—in fact, an aggregate of 57 per cent of the total registration. How did the polling tally with this showing? The Republican candidate for Mayor, a successful business man of high integrity and irreproachable moral character, fell to the bottom of the poll. His vote was less than one-third the Republican registration.

The registration of the Union Labor party was the smallest of any of the political organizations, yet the Union Labor party elected the Mayor, a majority of the Board of Supervisors and a majority of the other executive officers. Every man elected received more than 21,000 votes, while the gross Union Labor registration was a little less than 12,000. The gross Republican registration was, in round numbers, 49,000. Only a paltry total of 13,717 votes were cast for the head of the Republican ticket. The Democratic candidate received 1500 more than the registered Democratic vote.

A comparison of the vote cast at the general election with that cast at the primary shows plainly that the bulk of the vote cast for the Byron Mauzy ticket on the Republican ballot went to the Democratic nominees for Mayor, Sheriff and District Attorney. That there was a distinct understanding between the leaders of this faction and the Democratic managers does not admit of a doubt. It is clear, also, that a large proportion of this faction were not acting in good faith when they voted in the primary. They never intended to abide by the result unless the result coincided with their wishes. They went to the polls as Republicans in the primary with a determination to bolt if the opposing faction was successful. When they bolted to Leland thousands of Republicans who preferred the election of McCarthy to the success of the McNab machine voted the Union Labor ticket. Thus one treachery provoked another treachery that, in the final analysis, has shorn the Republican party of strength and deprived it of a victory that could have been lost in no other way.

Labor's Interests in Bonds.

The Building Trades understand the bonding propositions and their significance to themselves inside and outside of the present boundaries of the city of Oakland. These trades are largely represented in the territory outside of the city proper which it is proposed to annex as well as inside its present boundaries.

These bonding propositions mean much to both. They mean, in fact, more to the territory to be annexed than they do to the city proper, for, if they carry, which they are sure to do, the annexed territory will get an equal benefit with the city proper without bearing any part of the burden involved in the assumption of the bonded indebtedness starting the permanent improvement of the water front to provide facilities for the use of shipping and the accommodation of commerce and the erection of a new city hall which will meet the wants of a Greater Oakland.

And all of the money raised through the authorization of the $15,000,000 bonded indebtedness will be spent at home. The Building Trades and the skilled workers enrolled in the labor unions resident in the city and its suburbs will naturally be the chief beneficiaries through the expenditure of the money. Moreover, slight should not be lost of the fact that the water front improvements to be carried out under the bonded proposition relating to it, is only the beginning—the opening wedge—of the scheme of improvement which will ultimately make the Greater Oakland one of the most important commercial and manufacturing cities of the country. In the fuller development of which the Building Trades and organized labor will be the biggest gainers, for not a step can be taken in the work without their employment. However much, therefore, the permanent improvement of the water front may mean for the commercial interests of Oakland and the city's future prosperity, the Building Trades and the union labor organizations have an equal, if not a greater interest, in the carrying out of the program.

There are only nine of the fifty-eight counties in the State whose rate of taxation for state and county purposes is lower than that of Alameda county, according to the tax rate sheet just published by the State Controller. Alameda county's tax rate is $1.56. The counties whose rate is below that figure are Contra Costa, $1.50; Kern, $1.35; Kings, $1.55; Los Angeles, $1.45; Marin, $1.55; Orange, $1.20; Tulare, $1.30; Ventura, $1.40, and Yolo, $1.35.

Oakland's Pledges Sincere.

The opposition to annexation in the outside territory has resolved itself into an objection to Oakland's charter and a demand that the charter be amended or a new one adopted which will be adaptable to the conditions that annexation will require. The objection is frivolous and unreasonable and it is so dawning on the intelligence of the anti-annexationists. Nobody is more keenly conscious of the fact that Oakland's charter has outlived its usefulness, or, rather that the city has outgrown the organic instrument, than the people of Oakland. Whether annexation of the proposed new territory prevails or not, a new charter will have to be framed. But does it not appeal to the common sense of every citizen concerned, and particularly those in the district proposed to be annexed, that the latter should take an interested part in the remodeling of a charter so that it will be adaptable to a Greater Oakland? If Oakland, as it exists, should undertake to frame a new charter, were such possible (which it is not) before the annexation election is held, the objection might be reasonably raised that it was unsatisfactory for the reason that the territory now proposed to be annexed had no voice in framing it. It is manifestly to the interest of those residing and having property within the territory which it is proposed to annex should qualify themselves to have a voice in the framing of a new charter which will protect their rights as well as those of the older sections of the consolidated municipality.

The municipal authorities of Oakland are pledged to extend to the annexed territory all the privileges and facilities, improvements and benefits which it expects to derive itself through annexation. The people of Oakland unanimously back the pledge. The pledge must be taken on faith. Can any reasonable and fair-minded person assume or suspect that the pledge will not be fulfilled to the letter? Is it not as much to the interest of Oakland proper and to the future welfare of every part of the expanded municipality that the pledge given shall be faithfully carried out? Common sense and the most extreme selfish view of the question must furnish an affirmative answer. The prosperity of the greater city will depend upon the fulfillment of the pledge to the letter.

In evidence of Oakland's good faith to the outside territory which is itself seeking to be annexed, Oakland's legislative body—the Council—has taken the initiative step toward the framing of a new charter by pledging itself to proceed in regular form immediately after a favorable vote has been cast at the annexation election to be held November 15, to provide for a new charter, in the development of which the territory annexed shall be equally represented with itself. What stronger proof of Oakland's sincerity can be given or demanded? To doubt is to assume that no faith can be placed in any human pledge or obligation. Such an assumption is absurd and irrational. Let reason and fair-mindedness have their way.

Laying Wires Underground.

Putting overhead wires underground turns out after all to be an economical measure in the long run, according to the admission made by the superintendent of construction of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to the Mayor of Alameda and councilmen of that city. The first cost of an underground system is greater, of course, than the erection of poles and wires. The economy comes into the case later, when the difference in the cost of subsequent maintenance and the interference of rain and storm with the working of the lines are considered. The reduction in the cost of maintaining wires underground and the avoidance of troubles created by the elements are found to fully offset the extra cost of construction. So well satisfied has the telephone company become of this fact that it is planning to take down voluntarily all of its overhead lines in Alameda and place them underground.

In this city the Council has adopted the system of gradually forcing overhead wires of all kinds except the trolley lines in given sections each year radiating from the business center which is largely cleared already. The plan is satisfactory to all of the telephone and power companies, as it enables them to distribute the cost of making the change over a series of years. Moreover, the plan has the additional advantage of avoiding trenching all of the streets of the city at one time.

Sir Thomas Lipton is still hammering away at the New York Yacht Club to induce that organization to change the rules governing a challenge for that "blooming mug," the America cup, so, as he puts it, he can have at least a sporting chance to win it. Lipton might as well save his breath, for the New Yorkers have a cinch on the possession of the so-called "blue ribbon of the sea" and they mean to hold on to it. For the yacht club to relax the present rules in any respect would be tantamount to giving a foreign challenger a chance to win the trophy.

Rudolph Spreckels is to be congratulated in one respect at least. He has been relieved of an onerous "office expense."

Normal Span Of Man's Life

NEW YORK.—The normal span of human life is 150 years, according to a remarkable study by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, which has just been published by the national conservation commission at Washington. Professor Fisher shows that the length of man's existence is steadily growing, both in this country and in Europe, with the progress of science, sanitation and social betterment, and declares that the span of 150 years will not long be impossible of attainment.

The average length of life has been steadily growing, according to Professor Fisher's statistics. At the end of the sixteenth century it was four years longer than at the beginning. At the end of the eighteenth century another four years had been added to the average, and in the first three-quarters of the nineteenth century the length of life increased at the rate of nine years to the century.

In the last generation the increase was greater. In Massachusetts the present rate of increase is about fourteen years a century, while in Europe as a whole the rate of increase is about seventeen years a century. In Prussia the land of the greatest advance in medicine, surgery and hygiene, the increase in longevity is at the rate of twenty-seven years a century.

The investigations by Metchnikoff are quoted by Professor Fisher to show that the average normal span should be 150 years. Mammals generally, he points out, live about five times their growing period. Man's period of growth is thirty years, and, according to that, he should live for 150 years. The present average duration of life is stated as 38 years. Two cases of persons who lived to great ages are mentioned, a Norwegian, who died at the age of 146 years, and Mrs. Mary J. Wood of Portland, Ore., both of which are completely authenticated.

There is not the slightest doubt that the people of San Francisco wish the graft prosecution to cease. The continuance of the prosecution was the dominant issue of the campaign, and Charles M. Fickert was elected by an overwhelming majority because the people deemed that through him the desired result would be accomplished. The election of Fickert is tantamount to an acquittal, by a verdict of the whole people, of the group of indicted corporation men around whom the conflict centered. No other construction can be placed upon it. What the people did they did deliberately. It is no use to point out that a vast campaign fund was spent for Fickert and that he had a strategic advantage in being the nominee of two strong parties. The people who voted for Fickert wanted him. They would have searched out his name and stamped the cross after it if the name had been printed on the back of the ballot.

Shareholders in Corporations

More than two million people are shareholders in the great American corporations, whose total capital is computed at $40,000,000,000. Here are some examples:

Corporation	Shareholders	Stock Held by Them
Pennsylvania Railroad	60,000	$134,000,000
Atchafalpa, Popple and Santa Fe	25,000	217,000,000
Bell Telephone	24,100	150,000,000
United States Steel	22,100	648,000,000
New York Central	22,100	178,000,000
American Sugar	20,000	80,000,000
Amalgamated Copper	18,000	154,000,000
Union Pacific	15,000	295,000,000
Southern Pacific	15,000	148,000,000
Pullman Car Company	13,500	100,000,000
Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul	10,000	133,000,000
Smelters	9,400	100,000,000
Standard Oil	5,500	98,000,000
General Electric Company	5,000	80,000,000

These fourteen corporations alone have 264,700 shareholders owning $3,555,000,000 of their capital stock.—New York Sun.

Lifting the America's Cup

There will be a good deal of popular sympathy in this country with Sir Thomas Lipton's wish to lessen the obstacles in the way of another challenge for the America's Cup. Whether the New York Yacht Club will see its way clear to modify the terms on which it holds the cup remains to be seen, but that organization is, to some extent, committed to the policy of encouraging the building of boats fit to cross the ocean. In 1902 it adopted a rule designed to favor existing yachts, as distinguished from new, pure and simple. It would make only a new application of that principle if it felt free to construe the deed of gift under which it received the America's Cup so as to lead Sir Thomas to make another trial.

That the club has had misgivings as to the result of another international race would be an unfair assumption, but the loss of the cup would not be a tragedy. The effort to recover it would furnish a new incentive for competition between American and foreign yacht designers. He would be a faint-hearted patriot who did not confidently expect to see the trophy return to this side of the Atlantic. At least one struggle over it would take place in European waters, and a smaller number of Americans would witness the spectacle than have attended the races off Sandy Hook. Yet it is doubtful if there will be another contest in the vicinity of New York unless great inducements are offered to challengers.—N. Y. Tribune.

CLIMBING ARMY LADDER

A return was issued this morning showing the average time taken from the date of first commission in attaining, respectively, the ranks of captain and of major of officers in the cavalry, royal artillery, royal engineers, infantry and Indian army.

The average time was lowest in the cavalry, the period being seven years and five months. Next comes the garrison artillery, with eight years, followed by the infantry, eight years and four months; field artillery, eight years and six months; and the engineers and Indian army, nine years. The last two were time promotions.

The average time taken to reach the rank of major was: Cavalry, fourteen years and six months; Indian army, eighteen years; infantry, eighteen years and three months; engineers, nineteen years and seven months; garrison artillery, twenty years. The Indian army period was a time promotion.—London Standard.

FOURTEEN ERRORS OF LIFE

The fourteen mistakes of life, Judge Renton told the Bartholomew Club, are: To attempt to set up our own standard of right and wrong, and expect everybody to conform to it.

To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.

Not to yield to unimportant trifles.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate, if we can, all that needs alleviation.

Not to make allowances for the weakness of others.

To consider anything impossible that we cannot ourselves perform.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

To live as if the moment, the time, the day were so important that it would live forever.

To estimate people by some outside quality, for it is that within which makes the man.—London Standard.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Because the bartender refused to stop selling liquor to her husband, James C. Newbert, a clerk, Mrs. K. to Newbert today threw a glass of whiskey at Frank Courant, striking him in the face, breaking his nose, damaging one eye and almost knocking him senseless. Newbert was about to drink the whiskey when his wife appeared upon the scene and grabbing the glass of liquor cast it at Courant.

Danny Long has been signed to play center field next year for the Oakland baseball team. Long is said to be the fastest center fielder in the Coast League and great things are expected of him in baseball.

Hiram Vickery, the convict from Oakland, who was shot by a guard at Folsom prison last night as he was attempting to make his escape, was today discovered to be the son of a wealthy and respected family in Kemper, Mo. Vickery was sentenced to forty years in prison for a series of the boldest burglaries Oakland ever experienced.

Because the San Francisco police declare that James McDonald, the Oakland man found dead on Howard street, was the victim of an accident and because the grand jury has declared it was murder, Oakland detectives will go to San Francisco in an endeavor to ferret out McDonald's slayers. The San Francisco police refuse to make a hunt for the men who are alleged to have been with McDonald a short time before he met his death.

Because the abstinence drinking habit is becoming much in vogue in Oakland the City Council may order all saloonists to stop the sale of the liquor under threat of refusing them a license next year should they refuse to obey the mandate.

Thomas Lamb, the gambler, and member of an organized gang of highwaymen and burglars which has been operating in Oakland for several months, pleaded guilty to a charge of robbing Charles Dennett while he was walking along the shores of Lake Merritt with Miss Joie Brady three weeks ago. Dennett was badly beaten by Lamb and two other thugs who were with him but who made their escape.

Fishes as Mimics

In a lecture on fish photography at the Royal Photographic Society's exhibition, Dr. Francis Ward said that the power which certain fish possessed to change their color in harmony with their environment resided in the eye. He placed a pike in such a position that it had head was in a dark chamber, while the rest of its body lay in bright sunshine. Although its resting place was perfectly white, the pike remained black in color. But when he reversed its position and caused its head to be in the sunlight its color changed to a very much lighter hue within the space of a few minutes. It was evident that in fish, which possess protective powers of this kind to a greater extent than birds or any other creatures, the light acted upon the optic nerve, thus causing the pigment cells all over the skin to contract or relax.—London Globe.

Ancient Vessels

What is the oldest ship still in active service? According to Paris contemporary, the mercantile marine of Denmark possesses ten ancient steamers varying from fourteen to sixty-eight tons, the oldest of which was built in 1723, and the youngest in 1810. They are all engaged in carrying granite and other heavy cargo in the Baltic and North seas. The name of the "oldest sister" is the Constantine, of twenty-seven tons, as she has seen 188 summers.—It is almost needless to add that these ancient "sisters" are constructed of wood.—London Globe.

Young Hostess Surprises Friends With News of Coming Nuptials

MISS ELSIE B. CAMPBELL, whose engagement is announced to Maurice Walsh.

At an elaborate tea given this afternoon by Miss Elsie Campbell daughter of Mrs. Alexander Campbell of Webster street, a charming hostess announced her engagement to Maurice Walsh son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Walsh of Monte Vista.

The tea was planned in honor of Miss Elsie's departure for the city of New York where she will reside with her parents. The occasion was a most delightful surprise to all those present. The decorations at the Campbell home were beautiful. The flowers of the autumn season, in their gorgeous colors, with those of the red gold and brown autumn leaves.

In the parlors with Mrs. Campbell and her daughter and Miss Elsie's friends were Misses Elsie Adams, Miss Jessie Craig, Miss Charles Woolf, Miss Alice Powell, Miss Florence Wilson, Mrs. Robert Burgess, Madame Belle Neustadt and Miss Francis Stinson.

BIG HERD OF BUFFALO STAMPEDES WHEN DIPPED IN BATH TO KILL TICKS

FLAUNDER, Kas., Nov. 4.—Made furious at being dipped in a lime and sulphur bath to kill the ticks on them, a herd of thirty-six buffalo stampeded on Frank Rockefeller's ranch near here yesterday and are now scattered over Kiowa county.

When, in accordance with the orders of the government inspectors, the herd was driven into the dipping vat the animals went wild and broke through three barbed wire fences as if they had been made of twine. Five horses were used in pursuing one bull, whose value is $1000, but he is still at large.

Some of the animals are vicious and may attack persons who crowd them too closely and this is causing the herders apprehension.

WICKERSHAM MAY GO TO SUPREME BENCH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—It is the understanding in Washington that Attorney-General George W. Wickersham of New York will be appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, to succeed the late Rufus W. Peckham if he desires the office. Wickersham's inclinations in the matter are not known.

Judge Horace H. Lurton of Tennessee, United States Circuit Judge who was recommended for appointment to the Supreme Court by Mr. Taft on the retirement of Justice Henry B. Brown in 1906 and who was regarded as Taft's probable choice at this time, appears to be eliminated on a count of age. He will be 64 years old next February.

Should Wickersham be appointed Justice, he perhaps will be succeeded as Attorney-General by Lloyd W. Bournes of Illinois, the present Solicitor-General.

OLD HOMESTEAD CHANGED

Early Day, Famous Home Will Be Sold

The announcement that the Kinsell home place at Elmhurst is to be divided into small lots and sold off at auction Saturday next brings to memory the early days of Alameda County when the Kinsell owned hundreds of acres south-west of Elmhurst at the time that the entire country between Oakland and San Leandro was but a series of farms. The Kinsells created their home upon the highest piece of ground in their possession right off the County Road, and since that time by private sales and subdivision they have gradually sold off all of their holdings until now the only remaining section of their original property is in the hands of the Citizens State Bank of San Francisco, now in process of liquidation.

The property will be sold Saturday next in order of the Superior Court and the auction will be conducted personally by Frank A. Mott and will be held on the ground.

It has been divided into thirteen small parcels, three of which have been sold by private sale, the remaining ten to go at auction.

This property lies right in the heart of Elmhurst and although it is within two blocks of property that has already sold for one hundred dollars a front foot it will probably be disposed of for but a small fraction of its real value.

The Frank A. Mott Company is advertising the sale of the County and as it is to be a home place auction to be conducted without limit or reserve, there should be a very large crowd in attendance. The property is located on East Fourteenth street, corner Michigan avenue, and the sale will be started at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday next.

GREATER OAKLAND TO HAVE AREA OF A PRINCIPALITY

Advantages in Taxation and School Privileges That Are at Command of People of Outside Districts

The following table giving the present area of the city of Oakland and that of the districts sought to be annexed was prepared for THE TRIBUNE by City Statistician Frank A. Miles

	Area of Upland	Area of Tide and Submerged Lands	Total Area in Sq. Miles.
City of Oakland—In Oakland Township	10.0	Tide 4.0, Sub 6.20	24.00
Area in Brooklyn Township proposed to be annexed	25.73	1.8	10.33
Area in Oakland Township proposed to be annexed	6.35		6.35
Total	42.08	12.00	60.77

As will be seen from the figures above given, annexation will increase the area of Oakland one and one-half times what it at present contains.

The valuation of the area within the present bounds of Oakland, according to the city assessor's figures, is $109,007,867. The assessed valuation of the district proposed to be annexed stands on the books of the county assessor at $16,026,600.

In the outside districts the taxation is from 10 to 60 per cent higher than within Oakland proper, and upon annexation all the array of taxes for sanitary, school, fire, library and lighting which are imposed upon the various districts, except where levied for bonds, will be swept away effecting in almost every instance, a saving of from 40 to 80 cents on the $100 of valuation.

The present tax rate of the city of Oakland, less bond interest and redemption fund, is $1.13% per $100 of assessment.

This amount, in the event of annexation, will take the place of the aggregate of other rates paid by residents outside of the municipal area for special district taxes.

It must be further explained that the present tax rate of the city of Oakland provides not only for the running expenses of the city government and for the maintenance of the streets, sewers, schools, etc., but also allows for $400,000 being expended for extraordinary betterments.

Out of its revenues the city maintains a large force of men and purchases material for repairing streets, sewers, etc., and is constantly adding to the apparatus of schools, streets and fire department.

Out of the regular tax levy provision is made for dredging Lake Merritt, installing the salt water fire plant and constructing the roadway across the Twelfth-street dam and other great works which other cities usually provide for under bond issues.

SCHOOL ADVANTAGES

The public schools are closer to the heart of the American community than almost the government institution itself. The residents of the outside districts have provided themselves with fine buildings in most instances and their taxes are recognized as among the very best in the noble profession.

The Fremont High school is an added attraction to the city of Oakland, the former institutions of its kind in the State. President H. H. Hild of the Board of Education of this city as well as every other member of the board of education give their best to the teaching staff of the district proposed to be annexed and will be charged.

As evidence of the sincerity of their promises they point to the policy that was pursued in regard to the schools of the Tenessee, Missouri, Kentucky and Bay districts, which were annexed to the city in 1897 and where many of the teachers connected with these schools are still in the service of the department.

A number were transferred with their consent to other schools and others were promoted to higher places. The credit of the Oakland school department in politics has never played a part in its administration. Merit alone has been the stepping stone for advancement and the results of its teaching corps will be its best recommendation.

Among the benefits that will accrue to the educational system of the city by annexation to Oakland is that the departments of this city's schools will be able to serve the needs of the pupils of the newly annexed districts. The city's schools are well equipped and the teachers are well trained. The city's schools are well equipped and the teachers are well trained.

Then the benefits that will accrue to the city of Oakland by annexation are the following: The city of Oakland will be able to serve the needs of the pupils of the newly annexed districts. The city's schools are well equipped and the teachers are well trained.

The city of Oakland will be able to serve the needs of the pupils of the newly annexed districts. The city's schools are well equipped and the teachers are well trained. The city of Oakland will be able to serve the needs of the pupils of the newly annexed districts.

William F. Herrin, Just Returned From Europe, Declares a Traffic Boom Is Coming to State.

WILLIAM F. HERRIN, Chief Counsel of Southern Pacific Railroad, Who Has Just Returned From a Five Months' Tour in Europe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Return so quiet that only his very intimate friends and business associates were cognizant of the fact William F. Herrin, chief counsel of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and accepted as one of the powers of the Harriman system, concluded his five months' tour of Europe yesterday.

There was no heralding of the return, neither does he look like a man who had been as long as was constantly reported during the stages of his absence. Discussing this with his friends he stated that just before he left London he had a severe cold but that he was never in any danger of a serious illness.

Naturally the first questions asked of him were his views concerning the election just concluded. If he had any opinions on the subject he was unusually reticent and passed the matter off as ancient history that required no discussion.

In fact he was more interested in personal matters and his personal friends and their health and prospects. Particularly pertinent also was his verification of the different telegraphic statements credited to him to the effect that there were no startling changes contemplated in the management or the policy of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

The plans of the late Edward H. Harriman as they have been outlined before concerning the railroad and its work in this State are to be carried along to a conclusion.

"The policy will be the steady and logical betterment of the Southern Pacific," said Mr. Herrin, "in the point of physical excellence and transportation efficiency. I have heard Mr. Harriman say on several occasions that a three-day train between San Francisco and New York would be entirely practicable, and I think it is only a matter of time when this will become an established fact."

Mr. Herrin expressed himself as in favor of all the projects which had as an aim the betterment of the shipping by sea propositions for the State and declared himself as emphatically in favor of a ship subsidy. He predicted a great boom in traffic for the State and said the people must get themselves in readiness for it.

While in the East he was in frequent consultation with the new heads of the Harriman system, but declined to discuss this question further than to say that they concerned routine matters.

A dinner was given at the Key Route Inn last evening by a committee of business men to twenty-five of the leaders of the opposition to annexation from the outside district, and the luncheon by the Tri-City Rotary Club at Palast Cafe today.

The strong declaration of the German County League for bonds and annexation, summarize the features that figure prominently in the campaign for the past twenty-four hours.

The Key Route Inn dinner promises to have far-reaching results. It brought into accord those who are leaders in the business affairs of the outside district and who are opposing annexation to Oakland. They were 25 in number and the entire annexation project in all its phases and bearings was gone over and both sides advanced reasons pro and con for their positions in the campaign.

The German League coming out for bonds and annexation brings to the side of advancement and progress a powerful ally. The Germanic societies are a factor in the community and stand for its best interests, and when aroused into action they give assurance that both projects will carry beyond all question of doubt.

Fruitvale has a large German population and the influence of the league will be effective in swinging into line for annexation several hundred votes about which there has been question until the action of the league last night.

Many thousands of Germanic taxpayers and business men of Oakland will be swayed by the declaration of the German federal organization for bonds and annexation, and that number may be added to the pile of ballots that will fall upon November 15 and 16 to spell the advance of Oakland.

SWEDISH CLUB ALSO. The Swedish Republican Club, which represents the sentiments of a large section of the population, has added its influence to the side on which Oakland is battling and will have its due weight among those of the race that descends from the heroic Norsemen. Below what appears on the surface is the efforts being made by the big army of sincere workers ranging from bankers, merchants and industrial chieftains down to the humblest citizen to promote the greatness of Oakland, as is written in the success of bonds and annexation.

GERMAN COUNTY LEAGUE FAVORS ANNEXATION AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS

Campaign for Bonds Is Meeting With Greater Success as Days of Voting Draw Near

The big "get-together" banquet given at the Key Route Inn last evening by a committee of business men to twenty-five of the leaders of the opposition to annexation from the outside district, and the luncheon by the Tri-City Rotary Club at Palast Cafe today; the strong declaration of the German County League for bonds and annexation, summarize the features that figure prominently in the campaign for the past twenty-four hours.

The Key Route Inn dinner promises to have far-reaching results. It brought into accord those who are leaders in the business affairs of the outside district and who are opposing annexation to Oakland. They were 25 in number and the entire annexation project in all its phases and bearings was gone over and both sides advanced reasons pro and con for their positions in the campaign.

The German League coming out for bonds and annexation brings to the side of advancement and progress a powerful ally. The Germanic societies are a factor in the community and stand for its best interests, and when aroused into action they give assurance that both projects will carry beyond all question of doubt.

Fruitvale has a large German population and the influence of the league will be effective in swinging into line for annexation several hundred votes about which there has been question until the action of the league last night.

Many thousands of Germanic taxpayers and business men of Oakland will be swayed by the declaration of the German federal organization for bonds and annexation, and that number may be added to the pile of ballots that will fall upon November 15 and 16 to spell the advance of Oakland.

SWEDISH CLUB ALSO. The Swedish Republican Club, which represents the sentiments of a large section of the population, has added its influence to the side on which Oakland is battling and will have its due weight among those of the race that descends from the heroic Norsemen.

Below what appears on the surface is the efforts being made by the big army of sincere workers ranging from bankers, merchants and industrial chieftains down to the humblest citizen to promote the greatness of Oakland, as is written in the success of bonds and annexation.

Every ward and precinct is being canvassed and citizens are urged to vote for both projects and those who are in doubt as to the position they should take on either issue or in opposition to one or both are being argued with and confronted with facts why there should not be a negative ballot cast on November 15 and 16.

Next Tuesday night a big bond and annexation rally will be held at the headquarters of the First Ward Improvement Club, Forty-seventh street and Shattuck avenue, at which Mayor Moore and others are expected to be present. The campaign will speak through the press and otherwise, which made it appear that the design was to annex the outside districts at the expense of sacrificing the truth.

Various minor points of difference were threshed out and the guests of the evening were assured that the people of Oakland had nothing but a deep and honest welfare in its flourishing suburbs and that the residents there would derive every advantage that was shared with other sections of the city.

Frederick Clay declared that Oakland would have a new charter and significantly asked, "How much of a bond do you want to insure the certainty of our adopting a new charter as soon as the forms of law in that regard can be completed?"

The conference lasted from 7 o'clock until after midnight and besides the feast of reason and flow of argument the chief of the Key Route Inn was not remiss in providing a varied course of the substantial.

Tomorrow night there will be a big meeting in the outside territory at Latham Terrace. On Saturday night the city will be stormed by annexation advocates.

On Monday or Tuesday evening a big rally is being arranged in the vicinity of the cotton mill. On November 11 Blackman's hall at East Fourteenth street, near the California railway will be the scene of a big revival.

On November 12 a meeting is called for Athletic hall in lower Fruitvale. November 13 Elmhurst hall will sound the slogan of annexation at Fruitvale hall.

DINED OPPONENTS. A dinner was given at the Key Route Inn last evening by those prominent in the commercial and financial activities of the city to twenty-five of the leading factors of the annexed district who are opposing annexation.

H. C. Capwell presided and the following were among the hosts of the evening: B. P. Miller, C. F. Gorman, A. S. Lavenex, E. B. Riker, D. E. Perkins, L. G. Rumpf, Fred Sherman, E. A. Young, J. McLaughlin, A. B. Weeks, W. E. Mackay, J. V. Forleston, A. L. Hinman, W. J. Lavance, C. J. Heeseman, A. Jones, C. C. Craig, J. W. Garthwaite, Carl H. Renter, W. M. Gardner, E. B. Bull, A. L. Harnford, W. E. Gibson, C. L. Smith, H. C. Capwell, C. M. Wood, Charles F. Cole, I. H. Clay, F. A. Leach Jr., Fred Kahn, Mayor Mott (City Attorney), W. S. Peterson and Charles D. Spook were the special guests at the dinner and made the principal addresses of the evening in which they set forth the advantages that would accrue to the outsiders by becoming part of Oakland.

The reasons for and against annexation were set forth and the common points of interest involved in the project were argued to the enlightenment of both parties to the campaign.

The main point of difference was on the new city charter which the outsiders were thought ought to be adopted before they became part of the city.

It was however pointed out to them that in the creation of a new municipal organic law toward which the city was moving, the outsiders would be included in the new city charter which the outsiders were thought ought to be adopted before they became part of the city.

Issues Will Prove Timber of People To Decide Welfare

By Matthew R. Bronner.

Oakland cannot expect to receive an adequate income without making a proportionate adequate investment. At the present time our bonded indebtedness in comparison with our assessment value is absurdly low—in other words we have not made the investment in our municipal undertaking that good business sense would demand.

San Francisco contemplates a water bond issue of forty million dollars. One issue alone! Oakland which is now the metropolitan center for a community with a population almost as large if not quite so large as San Francisco is said to be struggling at an issue of bonds to be used for several purposes and aggregating barely $3,000,000.

BASELESS OBJECTIONS

To the mind which is now sought to be incurred the objections are entirely baseless. This is not a loan for the purpose of covering past debts the benefits from which have been used and spent. We want to spend more money that we may triple our income and even more than this, for the profits which will be derived from additional shipping, bound to be attracted by our proposed harbor facilities will aggregate $1,000,000.

Annexation were endorsed by the members of the club. In order to get more members interested in this issue a special meeting was called to be held at the Knights of Pallas Hall, Twelfth and Alice streets, Tuesday evening, November 9.

By J. R. Mac Gregor.

In a few years a sum of money that we cannot intelligently at this time estimate Mayor Mott has repeatedly stated that if the annexation scheme is successful we must take care of the new additions to our municipal family.

This is a promise that at every present citizen of Oakland feels must and shall be kept. The increase in our revenue will be greater than the cost of improving our police and fire protection that we may keep our pledge but we must prepare ourselves now.

THE TWO ISSUES

The two issues of bonds and annexation now before the people will prove the making of the retrogression of Oakland, and surely the faith which our people have in our city and county and our State should be strong enough to stand the brunt of narrow minded criticism coming to the front on November 15 and 16 with a majority which must prove our business judgment and sound commercial wisdom.

AUGUST HEINRICH'S NAMES DATE FOR NEXT RECITAL. ALAMEDA, Nov. 4.—August Heinrichs will give the second recital of his violin pupils Friday afternoon December 4 at 4 o'clock at 33 Liberty Street.

Heinrichs' concert always attracts much interest and the next recital is expected to be crowded to the doors. There will be many violinists known in the bay city on the program, which will be extensive and a rare treat.

By J. R. Mac Gregor.

If the bond issue now before the people of Oakland is not carried through it means a total loss of the years of effort which we have expended to reclaim our harbor. If we win it means making Oakland an independent city. And the benefits will not only accrue to the residents of this district but to those of San Francisco and to every community that fronts on the shores of this great bay.

The Pacific ocean is coming into a realization of the auguries—that of being the great theater of human events. We must be prepared to meet the requirements of shipping and commerce growing out of such conditions in order to maintain the prestige of this great bay as the shipping center of the western continent.

THE PANAMA CANAL

The Panama canal will shortly be completed and entered in the lists in the struggle to conquer the trade it will bring are the cities of Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles and San Diego. Los Angeles has with its characteristic energy gone ahead and annexed a strip one-half mile wide and twenty miles long to reach tide water. It will expend $20,000,000 to reach that which we have at our own doors.

This project appeals to San Francisco as well as to our own people. Their wharves are congested and they, like us, must afford accommodation for commerce or lose supremacy as the premier shipping center on this coast. Why hesitate about going forward and making this important step? The tax is a bagatelle. If we do not obtain a cent of revenue from the wharves the entire tax will be only $1.65 on each $1000 of assessment. As the tax will come here.

NATIONAL BODY WILL HOLD CONVENTION IN WASHINGTON

At the Session of the First Legislative Convention Under A. A. A. Auspices Steps Will Be Taken Toward a National Registration Motor Law and a Uniform State Law

By C. E. MOYES

The first national legislative convention under the auspices of the American Automobile Association has been called to take place in Washington, D. C., on Jan. 10. This will be the first legislative convention of the kind ever held in the United States. It is the first of a series of conventions which the association has planned to hold in different parts of the country during the next year. The purpose of the convention is to bring together representatives of the various state legislatures and the federal government to discuss and formulate legislation regarding motor vehicles. The association has already succeeded in securing the passage of a national registration law and a uniform state law in many states. It is hoped that the convention will result in similar legislation in the remaining states.

Because of the many accidents to cars which have been caused by the lack of uniformity in the construction of the various makes of cars, the American Automobile Association has decided to hold a convention in Washington, D. C., on Jan. 10. The purpose of the convention is to bring together representatives of the various state legislatures and the federal government to discuss and formulate legislation regarding motor vehicles.

MITCHELL IS PACE MAKER

Manager J. J. Mitchell of the Oakland Tribune has been named as the pace maker for the first national legislative convention of the American Automobile Association. Mitchell is a well-known automobile enthusiast, and has been active in the promotion of the convention. He is expected to play a key role in the convention, and to help bring about the passage of the national registration law and the uniform state law.

WILL PROBE THEFTS IN MILITIA ARMORY

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4.—Adjutant General Lusk ordered a court of inquiry yesterday to investigate the theft of $600 worth of property from lockers in the local armory last April which the police have not accounted for in the arrest of James F. Lusk, a former constable of the city who is now serving 100 days for the stealing. The officers detailed by Lusk are Colonel Thomas H. Wilhelm, Inspector General of the National Guard, Major W. P. Humphrey, judge advocate general's department, and Major F. V. Lusk, retired.

Only one conviction was had following the theft which was suffered by men of Company I, second infantry, and Troop I, cavalry. Fiske was known to have been a constable, but after his short term of confinement there seemed to be no interest taken by the police to locate the stolen property or to catch the other thieves.

The Special Matinee Tomorrow Afternoon For You Alone at The Bell—Anna Eva Fay May Divulge Some Interesting Secret.

MISS ANNA EVA FAY, the Original and Only One. The Most Atrociously Imitated Artist on the American Stage.

Miss Fay's appearance at the Bell this week has aroused the town. Hundreds of questions bearing on love affairs, sickness, mining, and other business ventures, lost articles, etc., are being asked at her at every performance. Her accuracy in answering has been proven by the recovery of valuable papers and jewelry which has been lost or temporarily misplaced. Scientific men of the world over are aroused at the evidently supernatural powers this mysterious woman enjoys. Friday afternoon's matinee has been set aside for the special benefit of the ladies. There has been a demand for this from the many women who attend the Bell and Manager Gus Cohen has acquiesced in the matter. Upon this occasion an opportunity is presented for asking Miss Fay for information on subjects that could not be properly answered in a mixed audience. During her appearance the orchestra, ushers, etc., will leave the theater so there will be the utmost privacy obtained. Secrets may be divulged, hidden things searched out and information that many a wife and mother might be eager to obtain may be found out. Remember Friday's matinee is the time. Ask Eva Fay.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It in Oakland, but Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help. Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed. Not one so important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble. It is the kidneys cry for help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted. Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys, help them to do their work, never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Read the proof from an Oakland citizen.

R. F. Marshall, retired physician, 630 East Twelfth St., last Oakland Cal. says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has been very satisfactory. The use of a few doses brought me great relief from kidney difficulties."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMullen Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HAVE LOCATED THE MISSING C. L. WARRINER

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—While the whereabouts of C. L. Warriner, the supposed local treasurer of the Big Four Railroad, has not been disclosed, it was given out today that Warriner had returned from New York with railroad officials with whom he has been conferring regarding his accounts.

Officials of the road refuse to make public the extent of the supposed shortage estimated at $50,000 to $100,000. It was estimated today that an arrest in connection with the Warriner case is a charge of blackmail was contemplated.

It is said this man was in the true employment of the Big Four and that he had knowledge of a large sum of money that he used this to blackmail the railroad.

Attentive System

CLOTH different than when you have not that disappears undoubtably who have.

There are other disappointments with made-to-order clothes as well, among which are waste of time and the frequent uncertainty of having a garment when promised. None of these nor any other disappointments with Attentive System Clothes. They are merchant tailored ready-to-wear, made so well that no other tailor can make any better, and if he could make as good he would have to charge nearly twice their price. Why not let us slip an Attentive System garment on you so that you can see the difference?

Navy Officers in A Balloon Flight

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—With four naval officers and a civilian occupying the basket the balloon Philadelphia II made an ascension from here today and sailed toward the south.

The balloonists had an exciting experience in making the start. The drag line or caught in the telegraph wires and used the basket to career almost throwing out one of the occupants. The balloon freed itself and sailed away without further trouble.

BIG LINER RUNS INTO A HARBOR SAND BANK

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Passengers on the White Star steamer Adriatic were detained at the harbor mouth for several hours early today while the liner was clearing herself from the grip of the sands at the entrance to Ambrose Channel.

The Adriatic grounded before daylight and it was thought she might have to wait for the incoming tide but shortly before 9 o'clock the steamer managed to free herself.

The steamer had on board a large number of passengers among them Orville Wright, the aviator.

No excitement was occasioned by the grounding.
